

Faktion, Maybe

Times like these are dangerous

And I've noticed
You speak with your agenda
I never knew you, you were lost
I'm so afraid to keep you
But it might be to my demise, I see it in your eyes
Theres something that I need
Even if you take it from me

Maybe I'll be fine
Maybe I'll be better than yesterday
Maybe I'll take time
To understand the place where you left me
Maybe I'll be right
But you won't remember
You heard it a different way
So I'll take mine
And walk away

Times like these are worried
And yet it seems
You focus on your means
You never seem to level out
Or take the time to be here
Well it might be to my demise
But I see it in your eyes
It's something that I need
Even if you take it from me

Maybe I'll be fine
Maybe I'll be better than yesterday
Maybe I'll take time
To understand the place where you left me
Maybe I'll be right
But you won't remember
You heard it a different way
So I'll take mine
And walk away

Selling out your friends as you come to me (come to me)
But you were selling me out to them
And now I dream without you

Maybe I'll be fine
Maybe I'll be better than yesterday
Maybe I'll take time
To understand the place where you left me
Maybe I'll be right
But you won't remember
You heard it a different way
So I'll take mine

Just walk away
