

Falco, From The North To The South

Me and you and everything we do
That's my conclusion and I know it's true

Like a rebel, a devil
A rebel with a cause
So, finding new horizons
And unknown shores

From the North to the South
From the East to the West
Chasing changing
Everything is changing
From the North to the South
From the East to the West
Constantly life is rearranging

Me and you and everything we do
That's my conclusion and I know it's true

Like a rebel, a devil
A rebel with a cause
So, finding new horizons
And unknown shores

From the North...

Here we go!

From the North...
From the North...
