

Falconer, Portals Of Light

I sit here by your side and weep you goodbye.
I'm singing songs of sorrow for you true gentle rose of mine.
Upon my arm I've tied a ribbon in black.
Alltough I know to well that this will not ever bring you back.

I feel so astray inside, as I know you're far away.
Let my love shine and be your guide.
On your way towards the portals of light.

A lonely candle burns for you, my only love.
Meanwhile you roam the clouds among heavens angels high above.
What is there left to live for as you've gone away?
Hope is lost forever more, I'll mourn you untill the end of days.

I feel so astray inside, as I know you're far away.
Let my love shine and be your guide.
On your way towards the portals of light.

-Solo-

Hear my love, hear my cry of deepest grief.
As I weep for you eternaly.
Praying for your soul, and for light and for relief.
As I shed your tears of misery.

I feel so astray inside, as I know you're far away.
Let my love shine and be your guide,
On your way towards the portals of light.

I feel so astray inside, as I know you're far away.
Let my love shine and be your guide,
On your way towards the portals of light.
