

Fall Of Transition, Parasite

Everyday your fast asleep while im working hard solely for you and you know i gave it all up for you you shrug it off likes its all routine your a parasite and nothing without me go on and pretend like this is all routine then cover it up ill be your instrument i found your weakness now ill exploit you such a lovely endeavor to get back at her work it out
we can work things out we can make it out of this start from scratch we can make it last
we can fake this bliss understand
this is a dream
you can be so naive its a miracle we were never meant to be