

Falling Cycle, Rose Adore

Such little hands you had so much to hold Without a chance to live
So many tears
so many held you in their hands Your image left us here
Now we bleed inside
Now lay there quiet in your dreams
you have gone away
There's nothing left to hurt you now
You're not alone as you go out into the night
You're with us in our hearts
I will never see you again
The roses on your chest will send you home tonight And the sunrise tomorrow will leave you in the light
You have gone away
you have gone away
into the night
You're with is in our hearts
