

Falling For Alba, One Last Time

You're moving on,
leaving all the things behind you used to know.
You're starting over,
getting up and getting out all on your own, all on your own.

Your bags are packed and ready to go,
sitting on the floor.
A constant reminder that things can only get better.
And when you find yourself alone in that big world
don't be scared, just take one day at a time.
You're moving on.

I know it's hard,
so close your eyes, the runway fades,
you say goodbye to your world.

And when you find yourself alone
don't be scared, just take one day at a time.
You're moving on.

And when you find yourself alone
don't be scared, just take one day at a time.
You're moving on.
