

Falling For Alba, The Evening Sky

Have you seen the sunrise?
I saw it for the first time in years.
Rising over mountains.
It should have been witnessed by your eyes.
You're all that's on my mind.

Regrets. Beliefs. Your breath. A tear. A heart. It's cold. I'm all alone.
Our thoughts. Our prayers. An empty stare. I question why we're even here.
And the clouds are in my way.
And the clouds, the clouds are in my way.
It's all for you. (it's all for you)
It's all for you. (it's all for you)

I watched it rise (I watched it rise)
and then I watched it fade away (I watched it fade away)
I watched it rise (I watched it rise)
and then I watched it fade away (I watched it fade away)
I watched it rise (I watched it rise)
and then I watched it fade away (I watched it fade away)

Have you seen the sunset?
I saw it for the last time.
Orange and red, against the deep blue evening sky.
The deep blue evening...

The deep blue (the deep blue)
evening sky. (2x)
