

Fame Factory, Giving Up

Giving up, Can't keep up

Tell me, do you miss me
Are you happy, are you seeing someone who's better, who is nicer
Who is smarter than I ever will be
But will she ever love you in the way I still do
And maybe it's fine, maybe it's wrong to love you
And I swear I'm trying to keep away from crying
It's always the same, I'm lost in this pain

Giving up (oh, my baby)
Can't keep up (oh, my baby)
There's no reason to try without you by my side

Giving up (oh, my baby)
Can't shape up (oh, my baby)
I will never survive without you in my life

Trying to be truthful, to be happy
And satisfy with my feelings, my emotions and devotion for the man who loves me
But I will never kiss him like I used to kiss you
And maybe it's right, maybe it's wrong to miss you
I can't pretend I'm smiling when inside I'm dying
And I can't go on now that you're gone

Chorus

No more you and me
You and I were we

No more you and me
I thought we were ment to be

Giving up (oh, my baby)
Can't keep up (oh, my baby)
There's no reason to try

Giving up (oh, my baby)
Can't shape up (oh, my baby)
I will never survive without you in my life

Chorus

(Can't keep up)
