

Fame Factory, Save Me - Andreas Novak

Someone's crying out there
At a crossroad in the dark
Reaching out for nothing
Like an arrow through your heart

Wait until tomorrow
When the angels save your soul
Told to be careful
It's your destiny, your goal

All those people leaving you behind
No-one out there should ease your restless mind

So, how is this a good life?
Is there a place where I belong?
Girl, I know that you can save me
So, how is this a good life?
Oh, I know I can't be wrong
'cause I know that you can save me

Can't you hear me crying for these clouds to disappear
Running round in circles
when I should really face my feares

All those people waiting all their lives
No-one out there should ease your restless mind

So, how is this a good life?
Is there a place where I belong?
Girl, I know that you can save me
So, how is this a good life?
Oh, I know I can't be wrong
'cause I know that you can save me

And a fool can have his day
Get a grip and walk away
(someone's crying out there)
So take my hand and hold on strong
'cause this is not where we belong

So, how is this a good life?
Is there a place where I belong?
Girl, I know that you can save me
Ooh, yeeah
So, how is this a good life?
Is there a place where I belong?
Oh girl, I know that you can save me
Because I know that you can save me
Because I know that you can save me
