

Fame Factory, You Gave Me Reason

So many tears that I've cried
So many nights asking why, why all my dreams fell apart
And letting go is so hard
I held my pain deep inside
I thought that love was a lie
I felt it might be too late
I saw it all fade away

You gave me reason to love again
You came and changed the way the story ends
You made me see
Here in my hearts endless sleep

And now my dreams have come true
I found myself there in you
And all those things that I miss
I found them here in your kiss

You gave me reason to love again
You came and changed the way the story ends
You'll always be
Here in my hearts endless sleep

You gave me reason you're all I need
You showed me love and now my heart believes
You made me see
You gave me reason to be

You gave me reason to love again
You came and changed the way the story ends
You'll always be
Here in my hearts endless sleep

You gave me reason you're all I need
You showed me love and now my heart believes
You made me see
You gave me reason to be
