

Familiar 48, Not Waiting For Goodbye

You reached the line you are now crossing
And why I continue I'm not sure
But I shared all that I have with you
And now I carry the cross of you
And why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you now?
Against the night we are alone
As you wish I'd carry you home
Where the life we never quite lived
Is the life you continue to dwell in
Why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you?
I'm not waiting for goodbye (4x)
Again I stand here alone
I wish these feelings were gone
I still gave all that I had to you
And now I carry the cross of you
Why should I wait for you now?
Why should I wait for you?
I'm not waiting for goodbye (4x)
