

Familiar 48, On My Own

Well I can see you looking
Over my direction
Thought it was a good thing
I guess I was wrong
You don't wanna hurt me
You don't wanna bring me down
You just wanna scold me
Just because someone else said
I don't need you putting me down
I don't need you cursing my soul
I don't need you pretending you want me
I'd be better off here on my own
I can see the pictures
Hanging up along the wall
Nobody to warn me of anything you had in store
You don't want to please
You don't wanna play around
You just wanna scold me
Just because someone else said
I don't need you putting me down
I don't need you cursing my soul
I don't need you pretending you want me
I'd be better off here on my own
