

Far From Heroes, Every Hour

Deal with the mental pictures
Turn them into something beneficial
Only memories and you weren't there
So stop wasting your time

Prey on the innocent
She's so young and inexperienced
She makes you feel like
The whole wide world revolves around your head

Attracted to the ignorance,
she's so obsessed,
But you wont kiss her virgin lips,
You need it less,
But you'll take away her innocence

Subtract the only difference
Think back on every hour
A few short years ago you never would have pictured this
So are you asking any questions
Are you learning any lessons
Just pass down the torch that burned you
And you could forgive

Attracted to the ignorance, she's so obsessed
But you wont kiss her virgin lips,
You need it less,
But you'll take away her innocence

Enjoy yourself at her expense
Lie to her, pretend
When it's convenient make it meaningful
We'll open up the door,
Don't give her anymore,
When it's convenient make it meaningful

So are you taking any chances?
Are you taking her for granted?
Moving down the line,
You moved towards me, and with no regrets

Attracted to the ignorance, she's so obsessed,
But you wont kiss her virgin lips,
You need it less,
But you'll take away her innocence

Attracted to the ignorance, she's so obsessed,
But you wont kiss her virgin lips,
You need it less,
But you'll take away her innocence

Nothing more and nothing less