

Faravahar, Before You

I did deeds which I had never done before you came in my world you've stolen my wisdom here's my painful word You'll never know
the way your words
have driven me crazy I can't just let it go so I left you this curse

I'd been sleeping for a long time and you were the one who woke me up
so let me show you how much I love you
