Farmer Boys, End Of All Days

build a house on sand and watch it sink into the ocean blue build a house of cards and watch the wind blow through play a grown-up game with grown-up names and plastic surgery build a house on sand and watch it disappear all the plans you made and prayers you prayed are lost in yesterday

this is the end the end of all days marking time for the very last day write a memo in your organizer that nothing is for sure mark your calendar and strike tomorrow through

cause this is the end the end of all days marking time for the very last day

it the end of all days
