

Fatal Flowers, Rock And Roll Star

The blue light hits hard in the lonely night
I guess I should have turned it off,
But I'm just too doggone tired
Stuffin' a sandwich down my throat,
Can't even bare the thought of food
'Cause there's nothing else to do

I walk into this bar and try to get myself a drink
And up walks this girl (she says:)
Hey you wanna know what I think?
I think your music is great
But I like you even better
How about the two of us
Makin' some noise together
Well I don't know, I really don't know now
She says well I'm gonna kill myself,
If i don't make it with you
So you follow her home, I mean what can I do

Jonathan he's a rock and roll star
Didn't make it but that's the way things are

Well we had a lot of fun
But there's something I gotta do
Now don't start yellin'
'Cause you know I won't be hurtin' you
You look real cool
But I knew you were the screaming type
Well it's goodbye to the world honey
And welcome to the hype
