

Fates Warning, Monument

there's a blind desire there's a drive there's a need to leave some lasting feat something to hold, something to keep a monument to complete there's a written page there's a book there's a search for something to say something to share, something to speak a monument to convey is it fiction, is it confession is it passion or just a profession is it performance, is it expression is it passion or just an obsession there's a photograph there's a frame there's a time, a moment to confine something to save, something to see a monument to enshrine

is it passion or just a profession
is it fiction, is it confession

there's an empty room there's a blank page there's a picture left incomplete something is lost, something remains a monument to defeat

is it fiction, is it confession
is it passion or just a profession
is it performance, is it expression
is it passion or just an obsession
