

Feeling Left Out, Enough About Me

Enough About Me

I think I stood up too fast
Because my head is light
And I don't think I can think straight anymore

I know you like gravity
Make sure I wash my face
And brush my teeth
Just hope to spark your memory

The computer lies
It can't show my face
So impersonal

I'll pretend I don't know you're there
I'll just wait for you to say hello

You take your time to respond to me
Seems like you're keeping busy lately

So I'll sign off without saying goodbye
I hope it hurts to watch me go

But enough about me

I hoped for the very best
But now I think I'm in over my head
