

Feeling Left Out, Last But Not Least

Eyes tear
Shade of red
And I won't ever see you again
I guess that's for the best
Cause I never want to see you with him

My ears bleed
Shade of red
And I won't ever hear you again
I'll never hear you say... that you love him (that you love him)

My nose runs
Shade of red
Never smell your sweet perfume
These happy days have all gone by These happy days aren't yours and mine

What do you do when all you can do is wake up and die
What do I do when every single song I hear reminds me of you
Why do I keep doing this to myself
And I'm asking these questions
And I'll keep staring and screaming up into the sky
Until I find you

My mouth bleed shade of red
And I won't ever taste your lips
Those cotton candy kisses of death

And last but not least
I won't ever touch your skin
Just one last touch but you've been contaminated
So never again

What do you do when all you can do is wake up and die
What do I do when every single song I hear reminds me of you
Why do I keep doing this to myself
And I'm asking these questions
and I'll keep staring and screaming up into the sky

Why do I keep doing this to myself
And I'm asking these questions
And I'll keep staring and screaming up into the sky
Until I find you (I find you)