

Feltbeats, We belong

Cause we belong in two thousand and eight
The best year of my life without debate
Oh wait
And in an age while learning you.
Who would have planned to fall in love in a caravan
Cause we belong getting lost underneath an ancient star
And no one else was in that moment
Cause that moment was ours.
And who would have planned
I'd be walking the land with you,
And who would have guessed
I fall asleep with your head upon my chest.
Cause we belong in a song that I've written about you and I
At the best of times I've been falling in love
I run you a bath or two.
Cause we belong in center of the sky
Where the only guests aloud are you and I,
Cause I found what I need to get through
It's all in the shape of you.
In the words of my song that's where we belong
Cause you belong asleep right here with me
I sing you all my songs under the willow tree
An oh no, I won't look forward to tomorrow
Cause time without my girl seems unbelievably hollow.
And yet you are the reason why I won't be sleeping tonight.
Yet you are the reason why I even feel alive.
You are the reason why I won't be sleeping tonight.
Yet you are the reason why I even feel alive.
Cause we belong in a song that I'm singing.
Cause I'm not interested in being with other women.
Cause I've found my girl, she's all my world.
Cause we belong, yeah, we belong, oh, we belong together.
In my arms you will stay.
Girl, I'll never let you get away from me.
Cause we belong in center of the sky
Where the only guests aloud are you and I.
Cause I found what I need to get through
It's all in the shape of you.
In the words of my song, that's where you belong
In the words of my song, that's where you belong
