

Ferry Corsten, Into The Dark

I think you lost your mind
Or did you fall asleep
Was your vision closing in
Did the light play tricks upon you

Was the window shut
As you lay on your bed
Was there someone creeping in
Did the vapours squirt around your head

And slowly, but surely
Taking away from me

(2X)
How can you fall into the dark
When my arms are there to catch you
How will I ever lose my way
With your open hand to cling to

I think I'm breaking through
I'll wake you from this sleep
One kiss surely that will do
Then the ice will melt around you

And slowly, but surely
Bringing you back to me

(4X)
How can you fall into the dark
When my arms are there to catch you
How will I ever lose my way
With your open hand to cling to
