

FFH, Without You

Without You, there'd be no sunrise
Without You, there'd be no light
Without You, there'd be no answers
To the questions in my life
You bring joy in the morning
You bring comfort in the night
In Your hand You hold the heavens
You make everything alright

Saturday afternoon
I've got nothing to do
So I jump in my car and drive
Around for a while
This is my holy place
My favorite escape
And as I drive this song comes to my mind

Round and round and round and round we go
When we stop only heaven can know
