

Fiction Family, Elements Combined

To the girl I told to run away
The ghost I saw a hundred times a day
You weren't like me, no you weren't afraid

You are elements combined
Earth, air, fire, wine
Someday you'll be mine
(Elements combined)

You stuck around, but we didn't fly
Weighed down by all I hid behind my eyes
I only hope that you realize

You are elements combined
Earth, air, fire, wine
Someday you'll be mine
Someday you'll be mine

I'll bury all excuses,
Burn all the reasons why
I can't be everything you want,
And everything you need

(You are elements combined)x3

We talk a lot, but it's always small
Tiny bricks, that make a giant wall
I hope these words are a wrecking ball

You are elements combined
Earth, air, fire, wine
Someday you'll be mine

You are elements combined
Earth, air, fire, wine
Someday you'll be mine
