

Fifteen, Landlord

Sometimes I feel the need to ask my landlord Just exactly when did god die, and how'd you get in the will and why is that you own seven homes and I own none and for some reason that means you get to rob me on the first of every month

Upon further investigation I find that land acquisition is just a result of genocide and war And if we uphold the idea of landownership we are saying it's acceptable to kill people just to take away their land, to take their land kill em to take their land

Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
simple matter of greed do you understand?
Situations like these make me feall to my kness
it's a simple matter of greed, when it's just a scam

It's a pretty simple equation, there are ninety nine people like you for every cop, landlord and politician And if we learned to just say no there'd be no more taxes, no more work and we'd all own our own homes we are all controlled... by fear If you don't go to work everyday If you don't pay your rent every month
If you don't pay your taxes every year
If you don't bow down to our fear
You will starve in the street
You will freeze in the street
You will die in the street
YOu will die... alone

It's a pretty simple equation
It's all about restitution It's all about reparations It's all about revolution

My life is mine
My time is mine
My work is mine and don't work for you anymore
My life is mine
My time is mine
Your house is my mind and I don't pay you rent anymore
My life is mine
My time is mine
My money is mine and I won't pay taxes to fund your fucking war, to pay for your war

Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
simple matter of greed do you understand?
Situations like these make me feall to my kness
it's a simple matter of greed, when it's just a scam

And if we really believe that it's ok to kill someone just to take their shit then I'm gonna go down to the pawnshop and buy myself a handgun cause my landlord's on the top of the list

Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
I can not comprehend what you don't understand
Situations like these make me fall to my knees
simple matter of greed do you understand?
Situations like these make me feall to my kness
it's a simple matter of greed, when it's just a scam

The Indians lost and this is the cause
The Indians lost
and red is the cost
