

Fifteen, Punk Song

Who's the coolest band?
Who's got the best hair?
Who's the most punk rock?
can you tell me who really cares?

I heard so and so's a poser
I heard so and so's a hypocrite I've never done anything in my whole life but I sure do talk alot of shit

He's got a mohawk
He's got a pierced cock
His head goes talk talk talk talk ...
She's got a mohawk
They travel in flocks
Her head goes talk talk talk talk...

That band put out their own record
I think that's so fucking cool
Even though their songs are sexest They're DIY so I guess they change the world

I got into punk rock
So I could say fuck all the rules
So long as I do what all the T-shirts say then everyone will know I am cool

He's got a mohawk
He's got a pierced cock
His head goes talk talk talk talk talk talk
She's got a mohawk
They travel in flocks
Her head goes talk...

The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from accepting white racism
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from accepting mesongeny and male domination
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from accepting homophobia and heterosexism
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from believing that their first priority is their occupation
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from believing the lie of a middle class is falling for unintentional division
The only thing that matters if your in a band
can you successfully divert the next generation from believing the lie that the earth's rightful role is under human subjugation
