Fifth Angel, Call Out The Warning

Face a dark life they cannot see It's for their own greed not humanity And they make the choice that will be their fall It's a terror nightmare, they blindly call - yea

And they say that there's no tomorrow In the night, we only hear their cries from the dark side (That) Call out the warning tonight From the dark side - (they) call out the warning tonight

Safe in power they sit and wait They can't understand their impending fate And their cold steel eyes - bleeding hearts of stone They can't hear their own, crying souls - no

[Chorus]

Fight the dark horse you've lived your lie There's no time for last rites, it's time to die Into waiting darkness below you'll fall Hear the lost souls their warning calls you
