

Fifty Nutz, Melancholy Madness

Blow your ashes away the dust is coming back again Sorrow, hide behind your smile through your eyes, ires can't pass by Your past mistakes has never been erased for all the so long nights I've stayed awake

Take away from me all things I've said Take away from me daily routine Sorry and sad again

A hole in my head, alone in my mind could you stay away from me when I'm crying And what's left inside, tears in our eyes pain in my heart, sadness in my mind

Silence has never forgot you, what you want to be
It brings me harm, it hurts me inside I lost myself and I scream to leave the pain behind my mind I feel inside

It's gone, nothing, I guess, I'm nothing it seems to never be ending, going down.
