

Fighting Gravity, Lost In The Rain

(Lyrics, Music: Triano, Peterson, Leitch)

I wake to a voice comforting saying "hey you, you're ok, ok, ok"
and I feel alright

Should I feel this way?

Knowing that it's difficult being me knowing you knowing what I know, I know, I know

She comes 'round, I grasp her hand, I say "hey you, you're ok, ok, ok" and she feels alright

Should she feel this way?

Knowing that it's difficult being her knowing me knowing what she knows, she knows, she knows, and

(Refrain)

All I've seen are lost in the rain

All I've seen are lost in the rain

All I've seen are lost in the rain

and the rain falls down on me

The child rises, fire eye, we never stop to wonder why, oh why, oh why, oh why

She cries all night

Should she feel this way?

Knowing that it's difficult being her knowing me

knowing what she knows, she knows, she knows, and

(Refrain)

And we all go forward reaching the place we can

Am I there? Is she there? Where are we?

We can reach together

We can reach together

We can reach together

We can reach

We pass through each other silently together saying we're ok, ok, ok and we feel alright

Should we feel this way?

Knowing that it's difficult being me knowing you

Knowing what we know, we know, we know, and

(Refrain)
