

Filmmaker, Shiver

I've turned this place inside out
And upside-down
Just for some answers
Was i your anchor?
I kept you tied down but i couldn't
Save you from drowning
I couldn't save you...

The snow fell before the leaves
Before i had a chance to tell you what this means.

I think your scent that haunts my sheets
And all the borrowed clothes
Finally filtered out tonight
I had almost forgot this feeling...
You know the one where your
Stomach turns
And the Words stuck in your throat
Make it impossible to breathe.

The snow fell before the leaves
Before i had a chance to tell you
What this means.

Turn the lights out. Make this place
As uninviting as i feel.
With my face in my hands...
My heart is in your hands.
