

Filmmaker, Spineless Heartless

Roaming eyes read cheating lips
As roaming hands brush cheating hips
Did you think i wouldn't notice?
Everything falls into place
As you fall back on your old ways
Deny everything.

I've been going out, when you're coming in
I've been waiting here for you.
As we go out cowards, we come back kings.
I didn't have the spine to say what you didn't have the heart to ask.

Drunk 2:00pm on a Thursday in an airport lounge.
Everyone here is scared of something
Flying, leaving, or what they'll find when they get home
Me, i just like the feeling of having somewhere else to be
I've been here everyday this week.

I've been going out, when you're coming in
I've been waiting here for you.
As we go out cowards, we come back kings.
I didn't have the spine to say what you didn't have the heart to ask.

A collect call from a pay phone
And I'm losing you to static
Like faking a dead phone line
You always faked all the good lines.
