</lyrics>

When I face the sea breeze
And close my eyes

My thoughts turn to
The green and leafy shade

Having crossed the distant seas
I just want to heal my body now

Even without words
If our eyes should meet

Our hearts, reaching one another
The dreams we both believed in

To the friends who held out their hands to me
I thank you

When my steps were slowing to a stop
I would recall my mother's face

I want to return to my family at once
Starry moonlit night, choking back tears

Compared to when

I set off on my journey

Have I grown stronger?
That'd make me a little happy

Even on moonless nights
Even on moonless nights
We can keep walking down this road

Starry moonlit night, overflowing with light
