

Finding Westerly, Help Empty Mind

Come and taste my words, Come and feel my breath
Cause its only the lonely who puts their heart to the test
Come and hear my cry, Come and see my fear
Its the pain and the hurt from the past that has brought me down here

This is your life
That is my fright
Help empty mind
Trust in your light

Live through my eyes, Live through my soul
And realize all the lies of the times how i lost control
Live in the cold, Live in the dark
Then you know you're alone when the worlds shot you in the heart

This is your life
That is my fright
Help empty mind
Trust in your light

I'm standing here, Contemplating every thought inside
I'm waiting here, For pieces of your heart to heal my mind
Crash the sky, Explosions lead to more than meets the eye
So please help me, Im hanging on as hard as i can try
