

Finger Eleven, Glimpse

tell me what you need to hear and i'll tell it to you again i can fake it all if you can too will it stop from bleeding naturally enough can i hold my tongue in silent the words are slow and repeating i know you why don't you take what you need and then go away i know you why don't you take what you need die to get another glimpse in so i'll watch the water rinse until we all get washed away i never needed someone comforting me i don't think i told you how i feel tonight you perfect little angel your beautiful even now i know you why don't you take what you need and go away

i know you why don't you take what you need die to get another glimpse

down i go
