

Fingertight, Guilt

i went to sleep last night
wondering how i'd feel
if i woke up tomorrow
and you were almost here

if you could use your hands, what would you use them for would it be to strangle me because you just can't...

(chorus)

hold down, why don't you just be the way that won't chase over me hold down, why can't i just be the one that carries all of you and i can see it in your eyes... i'll rest my head tonight thoughts i can't reveal the shade inside of me

the fate i tried to seal
would it be to strangle me or just try to ignore the fact that they don't care why they stop and stare i'll leave for you in that just to turn each here

everyday is hard
hard for you to survive would we maintain this much materialistic paradise

(chorus)

and i see you fall (and i see you fall) and it feels like i'm already there and it feels like you're already there you might carry me (you might carry me)

(chorus)

when the world just came...
wondering how i'd feel when you were fallen down
when the world just came...
i went to sleep last night, last night, last night (hold down)
