

Finley Quaye, Falling

Written by F. Quaye and A. Propfh
Forgiving and forgetting is best
Tried to forgive but I could not forget
And I found myself
Falling
For you again

Feel like I've been down this lonely track before
It's like a little deja vu but a little bit more
Falling
For you again

Where was I when you say bye bye?
Hold up my heart who say man don't cry?
Because I became close today
Sister you got me falling
Mmm all over your feet
These wandering emotions got me
Falling
For you again

Tried to hold back but I could only hold on
To a feeling we both know should be long gone
Sister you got me falling
Mmm all over your feet
These wandering emotions got me
Falling
For you again

Solitude
Solitude setting
Solitude
Solitude setting
Solitude
