Finn Brothers, Only Talking Sense

There's a wild thing in the woolshed And it's keeping me awake at night A devil in the closet And a feeling I'd prefer to hide He is religion He won't hear me when I cry for help He has a vision of me But I am somebody else

We talk the pillow There are times when I'm tied up to the fence Only talking sense

There's a mirror lake before me But I'm frozen when it's time to jump It's like maybe I'm afraid of what I'll find When independence comes You steal my shadow You make my blood run dry

We are true only when we talk the pillow There are times when I'm tied up to the fence Only talking sense

Did you suffer as a child That's why you want to make me cry You are afraid of me That's why you're so unkind

You won't deny it When your child is tied up to the fence And I'm only talking sense Lonely when we talk the pillow And your child is messed up in the head I'm only talking sense
