Finn Brothers, Suffer Never

Has she fallen from the sky So heavy of heart The sigh was on her tongue The grief was in her arms She will suffer never I mean her no harm

She'll come slowly rising On the air Lift her weightless On the air, on the air

And the silence was enough To shed my guilt She will always know my wishes 'Cos I remember how it felt

Kisses slowly rising On the air Lift her weightless On the air, on the air

She will suffer never I mean her no harm
