

Fiore, Let's Make This Instinctive

We're in this together,
but we'll travel alone
let's just use this outlet from home
Aren't we supposed to be doing what we love?

I suggest you take back what you said
We will settle our score just to find
all our words haven't left the ground.
Nothing's been said.

Let's make this instinctive
just to talk, not to share just expect, not to give
aren't we supposed to be doing what we love?

There's no telling if we'll follow the trend, but therein lies a problem we can't see the end or the beginning to this cycle so i'll just extend my words.

(doing what we love)
I suggest you take back what you said
We will settle our score just to find
all our words haven't left the ground.

I know there never was the need for us to speak.
(if you see need, then we will get together one day a week. maybe two. what's in it for me and not i
