

Fireflight, It's You

I wish that I could break all the mirrors in my mind
The ones that lie to me and steal away my pride
I wish I could be blind to everything that haunts me,
If I use my heart, I can see your face
You show me the real me

Chorus

It's You that I search for
It is You I can't live without
Your hope is what I long for
When nothing's left in me
It's You

This world is always trying to take a piece of me
But you are always there to make me feel complete
If I can keep my eyes on what you have for me
I will face the truth, and never look away
You'll show me the real me

Bridge

When I have nowhere else to go
And I can't find my way out
Your light it comes to guide me
I can't hide you show me the real me
