

Fireflight, Something New

He walks into
A crowded room
Smiles at everyone he sees
Another night
Pretending he's alright
Can't find what he really needs
He's looking for

Something more
Something new
To heal his broken heart
He's looking for Someone who
Who can understand

She sees him there
Tries not to stare
But something stirs her deep inside
She'll recognize
Something in his eyes
Fight the urge to run and hide
And all the while
She's looking for

Bridge
They thought that they were lost,
But they've been on their way
To the place where love would find them
Its time to let go of all the pain they've known
And leave the past behind them
What is it that has brought them here
With faith it can become so clear
