

Firevision, Truth

I used to fill my days with sorrow
I used to prove to myself
That I could be with anyone
Anyone like you

I used to be so sad and broken
I thought about the words unspoken
Every single day
And then I threw you away

I don't wanna talk about the things I've done for you
I hope you'll find a way to see the truth
I don't wanna think about the nights I prayed for you
I hope there was a time you felt just like I do

I used to be so sure about you
I believed that I owned you
You would come back anyway
Any day

In my dreams you're still beside me
But in this cold world of mine I know
That you're just a fantasy
That's our destiny

I don't wanna talk about the things I've done for you
I hope you'll find a way to see the truth
I don't wanna think about the nights I prayed for you
I hope there was a time you felt just like I do
