

Firewind, Come Undone

Roaring nation, mass invasion
A world at war, we're heeding the call
Premonition of mass extinction
Man is sole creator and destroyer
That the life you knew will never be the same
You've got to understand, this is just a game

We glorify the fallen soldiers
As the war crimes go on and on
History turning another page
We need a sign of hope

Fight to live another day
Fearing of worse things to come
There must be some other way
Before we all come undone

No right solution, just retribution
We build up walls, but how deep can we fall?
That fear inside will never fade away
We must regain the faith that have lost today

We glorify the fallen soldiers
As the war crimes go on and on
History turning another page
We need a sign of hope

Fight to live another day
Fearing of worse things to come
There must be some other way
Before we all come undone

Am I the one?
Do I have the power to change?
The end begun
The future's uncertain and strange

Yeah
Fight to live another day
Fearing of worse things to come
There must be some other way
Before we all come undone

Am I the one?
Do I have the power to change?
The end begun
The future's uncertain and strange
