

Firewind, Promise Land

Wishing... hoping... there was some place to call home,
Feeling... wanting... this emptiness can't go on.
I'm on a journey that will change my life,
No more waiting,
Things are different this time.

The promised land...
Wont you hold on to my fragile land?
Never once will I go back again,
Wont you take me to the promised land?
The promised... land.

Listen... someone... here I stand with no contempt.
Searching... something... to fill this space,
Once upon a dream, I thought it would be so great,
To climb the stars to the promised land,
And walk through that... gate.

The promised land,
Wont you hold on to my fragile land?
Never once will I go back again,
Wont you take me to the promised land?
The promised... land.

(Instrumental)

The promised land,
Wont you hold on to my fragile land?
Never once will I go back again,
Wont you take me to the promised land?
The promised land.
Wont you hold on to my fragile land?
Never once will I go back again,
Wont you take me to the promised land?
The promised... land.
