

First Aid Kit, Home Again (z serialu Moominvalley)

hey good mornings same warm evenings they always are on my mind there's the light that shine through the valley that always brings me back to that time the air feels with laughter summers haze with his .. back in your arms now I cannot help to be console oh, it's good to be back home again sometimes it feels like this road has no end oh how I love to be back home again when we danced by the river how we laugh, how we prey who ii was back then, and who I am now makes no differs when I am by your side

that old familiar bit nothing could be better when I hold you close to me

how I love to be back home again
