First Call, Lord Of All

(written by Phill McHugh) Lord of All, of the heights Where faith can lift the trusting heart Lord of all, of the depths Where fear would tear such faith apart Lord of all, of the nations Quick to anger, bearing arms Lord of all, of each child Held by it's mother safe from harm CHORUS: Lord of All Of all seen and unseen things Of the universe that sings And calls you Lord of all Lord of all Of the power not to sin You have always been And always will be Lord of all Lord of all, of a peace That we can draw with every breath Lord of all, of provision For each need in life and death Lord of all, of the turnings Of the seasons and the earth Lord of all, of the love That purchased man a second birth Lord of All Of all seen and unseen things Of the universe that sings And calls you Lord of all Lord of all Of the power not to sin You have always been And always will be Lord of all
