

Fishbone, Movement In The Light

There's a path for you and I to follow
For our goals aren't always in our sight
But now you've come to dread and fear tomorrow
Were your dreams killed in your sleep last night ?

Fight for what is right...
Pray for a movement in the light

Some are slaves to Rhyme, Wit and Reason
Some are slave to all of what they hear
To sing a different song is outright treason
Is the price of freedom what they fear ?

This cannot be right...
Pray for the movement in the light

Hey... Hey... There's a light to guide the way
Hey... Hey... The light has brought another day

For you and I should ever come together
Turn away the hatred in your heart
For we should find a peace to last forever
Find the peace no man can tear apart

May all the world unite
Pray for the movement in the light
