

Fisher, Too Late

Gone are the chances I have passed by
-sewn all my seeds to the wind Time can be nothing but pain in disguise
-I'll never see you again

And it's too late to think of what I've left behind
-dreams that have faded from view
Too late ' too late
I've burned all my bridges with you and I can't walk on water

The road that I've traveled is all that I know
-paved with each piece of my soul
And it's taken me far - but left you behind and I'm longing to see you again

But it's too late
to think of what I've left behind
-dreams that have faded from view
Too late ' too late
I've burned all my bridges with you

Did I reach for a sky that wasn't my own?
Lost in my own world
-now I can never come home to you

And it's too late
to think of what I've left behind
-dreams that have faded from view
Too late- there's no turning back -nothing that I can undo
And I can't walk on water
