

Fitzgerald Patrik, Personal Loss

I cry at my own personal loss, although i cannot cry too much because i know thay may be happier now, i cry because there are large scars left,by knowing you'll never see someone again.
For me ,though,life just carries on and everything seems sadder, knowing there's no room for anything but being forgotten.
as quickly as possible.