

Five Bolt Main, Descending

There is a feeling coming over me, it shows me how I really ought to be
It knows that there is something after me, why hide in shadows that I cannot see
I'm learning how to overcome disease, I'm making changes where they need to be
And after all of this is done with me, there's still a missing part I see
Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending
They watch as I become deplete, it scratches at the very heart of me
How can we still achieve release, when everything is incomplete
Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending
Manifest what you need, manifest your destiny
Manifest what you need, manifest-destiny
Don't let them make you think they're in control, you're the one who labors
Hoping, pretending, that I'm not descending
Manifest what you need, manifest your destiny
Manifest what you need, manifest-destiny