

Five Minute Ride, Sunday Night Service

I can't see through this pain
Maybe now this looks hard for me but it's always been, thanks for noticing And I should have told you and I should have showed you but it never crossed my mind, and it's mine so here's to you So here's to you here's to you.
and it breaks my heart all over again, my friend.
Tell me what do you fear or what am I afraid of the most That it's starting all over again
that it's starting all over again
it starts all over again
it starts all over again
I can't see through this pain, through this pain
I can't see through this pain, through this pain
I can't see through this pain
cause you're standing in the way
I can't see through this pain
cause you're standing in the way.
